FOXHUNTING IN JUNE

To many foxhunters June appears to be the month in which their sport reaches its lowest ebb. It is the halfway point between the last item on the March fixture card, bearing those mournful words "to finish the season", and the hour before daybreak next August or September when the old and young entry will be waved into covert for their first cub hunt. The seasoned hunters are carrying grass bellies that make them look practically in foal, while it begins to get almost too hot to school the green horses which will eventually take their place.

Nevertheless foxhunting is a sport which, to be successful, must be pursued twelve months in the year. It is in June that there is the greatest danger of damage to poultry by foxes—the cubs being big enough to require a great deal of food, but not yet quite big enough to fend for themselves—so that the dog fox and the vixen have to hunt overtime, some of it in the neighborhood of the hen house. A warning to your neighbors not to let the chickens out until after sun-up, and a few dead woodchucks picked up along the highway and left near the fox earths, will do a lot to further relations between the hunt and poultry keeping farmers.

June is also the beginning of the fly season when cattle are looking for an escape and start roaming the fences. It is therefore the month to check the hunt panels, particularly those in the boundary fences between farms, to repair those that need it, and to put temporary wire above any that, for example, are the low point between herds of cows, each with their own bulls. Of course any month is a good month in which to build new panels and to cut new rides, and June is no exception.

In the good old days before State Game Commissions started introducing deer into our hunting countries for the benefit of those who like to shoot them (with more votes than foxhunters), most packs did not do too much road work with their hounds until August or late July. Now the presence of deer requires a much greater degree of control and discipline which, in turn, requires more work, particularly with American hounds that do not have bred into them the many generations of discipline characteristic of their British and Continental cousins. In consequence most of the better packs now start training the young entry in June or even earlier. When Master and huntsman encourage the practice, and most of them are only too glad to welcome such support and enthusiasm, there is nothing quite so pleasant or so rewarding to a true foxhunter as walking out with the hounds early of a June morning, learning their names, markings and characteristics, and lending a helping hand if need be.

If a sport is worth supporting at all, it is certainly worth supporting the year round. To foxhunters we suggest that they ask the Master what they can do to help. Inevitably he will be gratified. And equally inevitably he will present you with a program of work quite as challenging as getting to the end of the great hunt next winter which your summer efforts have made possible.

Women Barred From Pan American 3 Day Event

Dear Sir:

A ruling handed down May 16 by the Organizing Committee of the 1959 Pan American Games ended the hope that women would be authorized to ride in the Three-Day Event at next year's Games in Chicago.

Walter B. Devereux, U. S. delegate and member of the Bureau of the Federation Equestre Internationale, has presented that body with a request annually since 1955 that the present rules be relaxed to allow women riders to compete in this event in the Olympic Games. To date, the F. E. I. has voted each year against taking such action.

The Pan American Organizing Committee ruling came as the result of a request made by the American Horse Shows Association, asking that women riders be made eligible for the competition at Chicago. The Committee's reply stated that permission would be granted only if assurances were received that women would also be allowed to ride in the event at the Olympic Games at Rome in 1960. The fact that the Bureau, or Executive Committee, of the F. E. I. has continued unanimously to turn down such a suggestion, however, has already barred that possibility.

J. E. O'Connell's *Cavan Upsets Field in Peter Pan Handicap

Raleigh Burroughs

About ten days before the Kentucky Derby, I discovered that there was something wrong with Tim Tam. I couldn't quite put my finger on what it was; and I didn't let on to anybody, because many people think Mr. Jimmy Jones is a better trainer than I am, and it would seem presumptuous to speak up.

Nevertheless, I set out to look into Tim Tam's trouble. On the day I began diagnosis, I read in a newspaper that Tim Tam "lacked color."

At that time, numerous persons had been blinded by the Great Red Flame from California.

I took a good look at Tim Tam. He did not wear bright ribbons in his hair nor a fluffy shadow roll.

He did have a sleek coat, a perfect set of muscles, harmonizing red-and-blue silks and victories in the Everglades, Flamingo and Fountain of Youth Stakes and the Florida Derby.

He presented a picture that would bring whistles from any group of normal fillies hanging around a shed-row corner.

There was no lack of color in the literal sense.

Tim Tam won the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness; and the Great Red Flame fizzled.

I still wasn't sure what was wrong with Tim Tam. But perseverance paid off. The solution came during a conversation with a charming fellow whose type is hard to find - he knows less about horses than I do.

Great names of great horses was the subject of our discourse. Sysonby, Man o'War and Citation were mentioned. Those are names that inspire images of thundering hoofs and flared nostrils.

And then I knew what was wrong with Mrs. Markey's colt.

The name "Tim Tam" does not inspire images of thundering hoofs and flaring nostrils.

Try it. Say, "Man o'War, Citation and - Tim Tam?"

Just doesn't work. No thunder.

The name would be all right for a Pomeranian, a small animal in a story by Rudyard Kipling or a 42-inch pony.

A rose by any other name would attract just as many beetles, but a good trade-mark helps any product.

I have read that Mrs. Markey named the colt for a titled person whose nickname is Tim Tam. She had no way of knowing that some day it might ring down the corridors of time.

It rings, all right, but, darn it, it doesn't thunder.

Belmont Park

The field for the 1958 Peter Pan (May 31) wasn't the greatest that has gone postward in the event that was inaugurated in 1940. The horse that drew the most play was Cain Hoy's well-bred Victory Morn (*Nasrullah-Good Morning), on the basis of his three wins in five starts, his good looks and the fact that he was under the management of E. Arcaro.

The favorite did not win, but Eastern fans, who were disappointed because Silky Sullivan failed to put on his show for them, were treated to a "silky-type" performance by an upstart from Ireland.

Mr. J. E. O'Connell's *Cavan was hero of the day. He gave the gallery the full dramatic treatment.

After the break, while Noble Gem and *Day Court were fighting for first place, *Cavan appeared to be backing up. When the leaders had covered half a mile, *Cavan was an honest 14 lengths back of the front horse and showing a distressing lack of interest in what was going on.

C. V. Whitney's Flamingo and Victory Morn moved up into the thick of things, with the first named getting the lead about three-eighths of a mile from home.

*Cavan still was last of nine.

Then Jockey Pete Anderson said the right word and the Irishman began to move. In a quarter of a mile he passed every rival and had his head in front before he hit the eighth pole. It was a gallop from there on in. *Cavan won the mile-and-one-eighth race by four lengths. The mutuels payoff was $14.40.

Flamingo was second by two lengths over Nasco, and *Day Court was another half length back in fourth position.

The win was the first in a stakes for *Cavan. He carried 113 pounds. Others toted loads ranging from *Grey Monarch's 120 down to the 106 lugged by Devil Seas.

After the race, Mr. O'Connell happily agreed to run his colt in the Belmont Stakes.

The Peter Pan was worth $19,167.50, which puts *Cavan at $24,567 for the year. He has 3 wins in 4 starts. Last season he won 1 race and was third once in 4 times out.

T. J. Barry trains *Cavan. The colt was bred by Mr. F. F. Tuthill, in Ireland.

Carter Handicap

In the seven-furlong Carter Handicap on May 30, Bold Ruler, even under 135 pounds appealed strongly to persons who worship in the temple of chance. Though *Gallant Man was in the field, those making their devotions accepted 4 to 5 on the Wheatley four-year-old.

It proved to be a profitable deal.

Eddie Arcaro held Bold Ruler on the inside, just back of Mr. Turf's pace for half a mile (Admiral Vee was up there, too). Then, as Mr. Turf went out on the final turn, the Wheatley colt moved through and reached the stretch 1 1/4 lengths on top. He held the same margin at the finish. Howell E. Jackson's Tick Tock came up

Reduce Fire Hazard in Stable Area

Sure Rescue Stalls and Stable (SRSt&St)

A NEW INVENTION (U. S. Patent No. 2,787,983), is a device for POSITIVELY protecting Horses (and other animals) against the HAZARD OF FIRE AND SMOKE.

FIRE-SAFE SRStalls are mounted on wheels. As soon as the alarm operates, the SRStalls (horses within) begin to roll out of SRStable. Doors open automatically. Simultaneously a DELUGE TANK spills its water over the floor (straw) of SRStall. All in less than a MINUTE'S time. Warranting a LOW INSURANCE RATE.

Fire Detector SEES the fire, does not wait for heat or smoke. Certain types of existing stables may be adapted to SRStalls. Cost is low. Lead your horse with calm conscience into its SRStall. For further information write or call

Steeplechasing at Belmont

John E. Cooper

Returning to competition this season in the International Steeplechase Handicap, Ancestor picked up top weight of 162 lbs., and left no doubt that he is still one of the best 'chasers of recent years. Now a nine-year-old, Ancestor took his fences in stride, except for a mistake at the water, ran well on the flat and covered the about two miles and an eighth in 4:04 3/5, the best time of the meeting thus far. Ridden by Paddy Smithwick, Ancestor went to the front shortly after the break and led his field to the sixth fence, the water jump, where his mistake permitted the C. M. Kline entry of Gridiron and Pine Shot to head him. The former, a four-year-old, with a feathery 130 lbs., then showed the way over the next fence and around the clubhouse turn. The remainder of the field, which included Shipboard, Rythminhim and Bavaria ran closely bunched behind the leaders, and it was a wide open race as the field headed down the far side the last time. Racing for the ninth jump, Gridiron held a daylight lead with Ancestor and Pine Shot in close attendance. Shipboard, the second high weight with 159 lbs., had bobbed at several of his fences prior to this, but Albert Foot hustled him into the ninth in a difficult position behind horses, and the Battleship gelding fell. Although his jumping had left much to be desired Shipboard had appeared full of run up to this point, and left the impression that he would have been a factor at the finish had he stood up. As the field neared the far turn, Ancestor again went to the lead as Gridiron started to give way. Rythminhim now loomed up as a factor, passed Pine Shot, and challenged Ancestor around the turn. Momentarily it appeared as if Rythminhim would get to the front, but Smithwick urged his mount, and he held the lead. Rounding into the stretch and over the last fence, these two drew out from the others. Ancestor led by about a length over the last fence, and in the stretch drive, Tommy Walsh on Rythminhim inched closer, but Ancestor held well to cross under the wire with about half a length to spare. It was 14 lengths back to the C. M. Kline entry of Pine Shot and Gridiron which finished third and fourth in that order. Bavaria was a distant fifth after being out of contention during the last half mile.

The International was endowed with $10,000 added, and gave Mrs. Ogden Phipps her first major victory of the season. Ancestor's weight assignment of 162 lbs. was the highest impost he has been assigned, and until Neji returns to competition later in the season, he is likely to be top weight for the stakes coming up at Delaware Park and Saratoga. In the longer two and a half Meadow Brook Steeplechase, which comes up for decision on June 5th, Ancestor will pick up 165 lbs., and will probably meet Independence, as well as Rythminhim and Shipboard.

*Langton Breeze Wins

The day before, Tower Hill Farm's *Langton Breeze scored a clever victory in the Indigo Handicap at a mile and seven eighths over the smaller jumps. Ridden by Tommy Walsh the Irish import carried 156 lbs., received 1 lb from Policeman Day and gave that one an eight length beating. For the first half of the race, Eternal Son and Policeman Day duelled for the lead over the rain softened course, with the advantage going to the Walter Jeffords' gelding. However, Policeman Day in turn was headed by the eventual winner going to the far turn, and *Langton Breeze steadily drew away from his field around the turn and up the stretch. *Square Dance 2nd, making his first start in over a year, ran well for about a turn of the course and then tired badly to finish a distant third. Eternal Son was the fourth and last to finish after John Glass on Fairfax lost his irons on the back side, and then unable to regain them, stayed on until the final hurdle where he lost his balance and went off. Fairfax, a four-year-old, owned by Mrs. G. H. Bostwick, and trained by her husband, appeared to be running well despite his rider's difficulties and could well have been a dangerous factor. A spectacular fall marked the running of The Indigo, when Curly Joe landed over the sixth hurdle and took a long sliding fall on the slippery turf, which would have done credit to a baseball player.

On Wednesday, Charkitt Stable's Good Sign made a front running victory of it in a claiming hurdle designed for non-winners of $1,000, at a mile and a half. Despite some erratic fencing, including one jump which sounded like "a hurdle box destoryer", Tommy Walsh kept him going to score by four lengths. Mrs. Armory Hutchinson's Glendower loomed up as a dangerous threat going around the last turn and up to the final hurdle, but he hung in the stretch. Pilgrim's Cloak was third after running pounds off her previous two races.

Refugio Hurdles

The largest field of the meeting, an even dozen, went postward on Thursday in The Refugio over hurdles. The winner and runner-up were fresh off a win the previous Saturday at Adjacent Hunts. *St. Phideas, an Irish import, was favored in the betting, and he came from far back to reach contention around the final turn. Racing with Count Down, *Darlington 2nd and Tombigbee, the Phideas-St. Andrew's Eve gelding met the last hurdle about a length behind Count Down. However, a poor landing by the latter, plus a strong finish under Evan Jackson brought *St. Phideas up to the wire a length and a half in front. Tombigbee was another length behind Count Down for third, after having run into interference in the last quarter. *Darlington 2nd faded back for fourth a head in front of Dancing Jay. The "good thing", Templeton Stable's Mandil, which was bet down from 10 to 1 to 7 to 2, was green at his fences, and showed little inclination to extend himself on the flat.

NOTE: Going into the fourth week of the Belmont meeting, Tommy Walsh is well in front of his fellow reinsmen with fourteen wins. His closest competition are Eddie Deveau, Kenny Field and Paddy Smithwick. Each have ridden five winners thus far this year.

By special permission of F. Ambrose Clark, schooling facilities have been made available for brush and hurdle horses at his place at Westbury, L. I. The unusually wet weather during the past month has caused a cancellation of morning schooling on the main course at Belmont, and has set back training schedules of jumpers. The New York Racing Association makes the necessary vanning arrangements, and upwards of 20 jumpers were schooled there last week. Mrs. Ogden Phipps was largely responsible for this, and had brush from the Adjacent Hunts picked up after the meeting at that point, and brought to Westbury for the purpose of making hurdles similar to those raced over here at Belmont Park.

It's an Easy Step from Dreaming to Driving!

Here he is at last—just a few miles out on his maiden journey—with his hands on the wheel and his head in the clouds. It's his!

And yet, truth to tell, he does have one regret. For he knows that he needn't have waited this long, had he but realized what an easy step it is from dreaming of a Cadillac to driving in a Cadillac.

Like a great many motorists, for instance, he was not aware—in view of Cadillac's unique and obvious virtues—that the car could be so modest in price.

Nor did he appreciate, until the facts were presented, how economical a Cadillac is to maintain or how wonderfully it holds its value over the years.

And little did he suspect how accommodating his dealer would be in welcoming him to membership in the great and distinguished family of Cadillac owners.

Why not visit your dealer today? He will be happy to help you select your favorite Cadillac model with your favorite Fleetwood interior—be it the luxurious Sixty-Two Coupe or the magnificent Eldorado Brougham.

Belmont 'Chasing Week of May 19-23

John E. Cooper

On Tuesday, May 20th, *Muguet 2nd gave John M. Schiff his fourth victory in the Spring Maiden Steeplechase. *Montadet and *Carafar took the 1953 and 1955 Belmont editions respectively, while Coveted was the winner of the Aqueduct leg in 1954. A week previously in a prep race *Muguet 2nd had appeared the winner coming to the last fence, only to sulk under the whip and lose a narrow decision to *Arywa. By virtue of that win, these two met in the Spring Maiden with a five pound advantage for *Muguet 2nd, but this appeared unnecessary for he came up to the wire six lengths in front, and appeared to have something in reserve. He was again ridden by Willard Thompson who held the favorite off the pace set by Nizam's Pet. When that one tired in the latter stages, *Muguet 2nd moved willingly under urging around the final turn and rounded into the stretch in front. Danny Marzani on *Arywa made a game challenge in the last quarter and made up a lot of ground but was not good enough. However, he had trailed his field for the first lap of the course, and apparently did not fancy the going which was very much on the soft side. Nizam's Pet was third, two and a half lengths further back, and the last to finish after mishaps to Greek Brother and Breakers Ahead. The latter came down early in the race, and Greek Brother threatened to several times during the running until the final jump where he gave Albert Foot a stiff fall. After one particularly "near miss" down the back side the last time, most riders would have steadied their mount and hoped for the best, but not the indomitable Albert. He kept riding the Allison Stern jumper, passed the tiring Nizam's Pet around the last turn, plied the whip generously and took dead aim at *Muguet 2nd. From the sidelines discretion rather than valor would have seemed to be the course, for Greek Brother was weaving coming to the final jump. Foot barely stopped whipping to steady himself for the takeoff, but Greek Brother didn't make it.

*Muguet 2nd took 4:13 to complete the about two miles and an eighth over the soft course. He was bred in France, and brought here for the account of John M. Schiff by Oleg T. Dubasoff, who conditions the six-year-old gelded son of Tango out of Marjoiane 2nd. Larger than many French Thoroughbreds, and of steeplechase conformation, *Muguet 2nd gives promise of being a fully accredited member of the very select group of stakes horses over brush.

National Maiden Hurdle

Later in the week, the junior edition of the "maiden" stakes came up for decision.

THE CHRONICLE

Nine hurdlers went postward in the National Maiden, and it resulted in an interesting race. Two sets of entries were favored in the betting. The J. V. H. Davis trained entry of Mrs. Anson Bigelow's Rotal, winner of a race the previous week, and Allison Stern's *Darlington 2nd commanded the most respect. However, at the finish, the fine hand of trainer G. H. Bostwick came to the fore when his wife's Indian Truce crossed the line 3 and half lengths on top. Indian Truce was ridden by Jack Glass, who, incidentally, broke his maiden in this race. Prominent from the start, Glass let his mount be headed by several others at some time during the running, but kept him in a good position. Under mild urging Indian Truce drew out coming into the stretch. The runner-up was Rotal, which finished well, two and a half lengths in front of Lots, which, coupled with *Orte, was the second choice. A head further back, *Darlington 2nd gained the minor end of the purse, a length to the fore of Dancing Jay. Indian Truce won $7,175, and completed the about one mile and seven eighths in 3:31 2/5 over a course listed as "firm". However, due to rains almost every other day, the course might properly be termed soft. As a comparison, the best time last fall for this distance, was 3:22.

Mancus, A Winner

Earlier in the week, the J. V. H. Davis trained entry of Allison Stern's *Maverick 2nd and Happy Hill Farm's Sextet appeared good enough to go off at 2 to 5 in a small field, but neither one were even in the money. The winner was Montpelier's Mancus, which was given a hustling ride by Albert Foot. *Franpearl led for about half the trip but gave way easily when challenged by Mancus. Another outsider, Fairfax, closed well to be second, and showed a big improvement over his initial start the first week. He was beaten about two and a half lengths, and caused Foot on the winner to ride his mount out to the wire. It was another two lengths back to *Sea Lord 2nd, which was ridden by Danny Marzani. *Maverick 2nd was the more highly thought of in the Davis-trained entry, and he ran well for a little over a mile, than flattened out badly. Considered one of the better hurdle prospects of the year, both on his record abroad as well as his race at the Carolina Cup meeting, *Maverick 2nd had been coughing in the early part of the meeting, and this might have been the reason for poor showing.

On Wednesday, C. M. Kline's Pine Shot made it four in a row this year. Making his seasonal debut at the major tracks in The Annapolis at two miles and an eighth over brush, he took the lead from his stablemate Gridiron when the latter started to give way on the far side, and then went on to win by seven lengths. Luck however, might have played a part, for in the closing stages of the race,

WATERFORD MONIKERS

Frank Smith, Jr., a medium-sized, congenial horseman from Maryland, was the first arrival at Waterford Park, and his top groom, "Shady Tree" Bill Faale, is with him again, but only because it has not yet become too warm. Usually "Shady Tree" quits his job whenever the leaves begin to bud, and he hibernates until Fall.

Smith, bedded down at Waterford for the 46-day meeting that got underway June 4, explained it in this wise: "Shady Tree has been with me before but it is hard to keep him working once Summer comes along. That's how he got his name 'Shady Tree.' Hardly anyone knows his last name. But that's not too surprising. There's many a man in racing hardly ever called by his square handle."

He was right. Nowhere else in the world of sport can be found such descriptive nicknames as those applied to grooms, exercise boys, jockeys and others connected with Thoroughbred horse racing. Many of the appellations reveal volumes in very few words.

During the prohibition days there was "Centerfield", so named because he doled out drinks between races from a business stand behind the steeplechase hedges in the infield. Another was an exercise boy known as "Foot-and-a-Half." In hopping a freight train he lost half of a foot, thus the moniker. Other strangely named characters included "Duck In and Duck Out Kid" who, while trying to gain free admission was tipped that a policeman was nearby and told to "duck out", Jimmy "Few Clothes", "The Singing Kid", "Overcoat Jack", "Barrel O' Fun", a groom who rubbed horses for J. D. Fuller when Clyde Van Dusen the man was riding Clyde Van Dusen the horse, "Whitey the Pest", "Old Folks", "Lyn' Fitz" and numerous others.

They even called George Woolf "The Iceman", Eddie Arcaro is "Banana Nose", while J. D. Mooney of Black Gold fame was hailed as "Sit Still" Mooney. Then there was "Umbrella" Herb, whom the great trainer, Sam Hildreth, considered such a jinx he paid him to stay away from the stable. But for sheer tops, you'd have to hand the palm to "Nervy" Nat.

"Nervy" Nat, as is apparent, gained his nickname from his colossal nerve. He made a major share of his "take home pay" by party-ing with jockeys and acting as a stooge and practical joker. The setting for his most famous and oft-repeated stunt was a cigar store. Nervy would enter the store with a prospective customer, preferably a hard boiled type, and after the purchase would yank the cigar out of the mouth of the stranger. Nat always got away with his nervy trick by having as hand a much more expensive cigar which he would extend - as the victim prepared to commit mayhem - with the words: "Here, have a good cigar."

PIMLICO STAFF

WILL RUN CHARLES TOWN

Under the terms of a private agreement with Mrs. Albert J. Boyle, a 75-day meeting beginning Friday, June 6th will be run at Charles Town by a new corporation to be formed by the operators of Pimlico Race Course.

WATERFORD MARATHON

Racing fans who like distance racing will be in their glory at Waterford Park. Already two series of route races are written into the condition book, the "Marathon" each Wednesday and the "Endurance" on Saturday, starting at a mile and a sixteenth and stepping up by easy stages to a final two miles.

Most horses of the present day are not geared to a distance of ground, and while two miles may seem a right smart parcel of ground, when eyed through modern-day spectacles, such a route would have been regarded as "sissy stuff" by horses of another generation. Kirk's Turf Guide of the early 'eighties provides some interesting facts about marathons decided around the nation, one over a ten mile distance. In that same year - 1880 - another race was run at five miles, two were at a four-mile heat route, five at four miles and five over a three mile run.

IT'S A TRAINER'S LIFE

The June 4 inaugural of a 46-day summer meeting at the "new" Waterford Park, a renovated and beautified mile racing oval, resulted in a temporary boost in local population of some 1,000 people, give or take a handful.

In addition to the influx of personnel for the mutuels department, the admissions crew and other employees directly connected with track operation, there are hundreds of horsemen - jockeys, exercise boys, grooms and others of which a large segment are horse trainers.

This is an overweening impression that a trainer leads the "good" life. Florida or some similar temperate zone lures them in the winter, while the 'Jersey shore, West Virginia or some other racing center draws them back for summer racing. Actually, a trainer has more ups and downs than a man in a ladder factory. He works hard, endures long hours and then can see the labor of months tossed away when a horse runs into a blind switch along the back stretch.

Trainers generally live near the track where they campaign. They are up sufficiently early to get them to the course by 6:30 a.m., or earlier, when the first "set" or group of horses is ready for their exercise, an aspect of training that tends to keep the Thoroughbreds in best of condition.

Whatever the number of horses in his charge, the trainer carefully watches each set go through their paces, with even closer attention paid to their "cooling out", when a horse must be walked up to 40 minutes or more after a steaming workout. Then there is the attention paid to feeding. If a horse does not take to his feed in normal manner, leaves it or simply picks at it there is cause for alarm.

Once the trainer is satisfied that affairs at the stable are in good shape there is time for the entering of horses in the next day's races, home for a "breather" and then back to the races for the afternoon where there are horses to be saddled for their appearance under silks in the day's program. His work continues through most of the afternoon for win, lose or draw, he must watch the reaction of his horse at the barn after the race, alert to any signs of soreness that might presage trouble in the future. At the close of the racing program he again visits the barn, watches each horse at his feed tub, inspects their legs, leaves certain overnight orders with his men and then is home to gain a night's sleep that prepares him for another routine day.

HARRY TROTSEK, trainer at Hasty House Farm, says:

"For Sea O' Erin, too,
I find Absorbine is tops"

Some years ago, Harry Trotsek was introduced to Absorbine by a veteran horseman. He has been grateful ever since.

Says Trotsek: "Absorbine not only relieves pain, swelling, sores, but also helps a horse relax and cool out normally after a workout. It's safe, too—doesn't blister or rub off hair."

Since 1892, Absorbine has been a byword in stables where the conditioning and care of horses is a first consideration. A large bottle with complete instructions costs only $2.50 at any druggist.

NEW JERSEY PURSES

A recent dispute between the New Jersey division of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association and the management of Garden State concerning purse distribution at that track was settled by an agreement which established a figure of 43 and 1/2 per cent of the track's portion of the mutuel handle to be set aside for purses plus the elimination of a $10 fee for each lead pony accompanying horses to the post.

BRITISH TOTE HANDLE

A record totalisator turnover of $75,740,078 on British race courses in 1957 was recently announced by the Racecourse Betting Control Board. This is an increase of nearly $4,000,000 as compared with the 1956 figure.

SWAPS STATUE

Manager James D. Stewart of Hollywood Park, recently announced that a bronze statue of Swaps in full racing stride ridden by jockey Bill Shoemaker will soon be erected in the center of the clubhouse gardens. The statue is the work of sculptor Albert Stewart. The base has been designed by Millard Sheets, director of the Los Angeles County Art Museum. Mr. Stewart spent two weeks working on the statue at the Darby Dan Farm, near Lexington, Ky., where Swaps now stands at stud.

ITALIAN OAKS

Winner of the Italian Oaks is the Razza Dormello-Oligiata's bay filly Beatrice Adams (Soldo-Balestrian, by Torbido), who stepped the 11 furlongs in the record time of 2.16 4/5.

ARLINGTON HURDLE STAKES

The Arlington Park Hurdle Stakes, $4,000 added, for 4-year-olds and upward which have started in two races over fences on the Midwest Hunts Racing Circuit in 1958 under rules of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association and which have acquired sufficient points racing on the Circuit to be eligible, will be run at Arlington Park, Arlington Heights Ill. on Friday, July 11th, over a course of about 2 miles.

RETURN OF STAKES NOMINATION FEES

According to a survey recently conducted by "The Thoroughbred Record", most of the major tracks in the country make a practice of returning stakes nomination fees if the owners request it before the closing date. These include all New York tracks; Bowie, Laurel and Pimlico in Maryland; Arlington, Balmoral and Washington Parks in Ill.; Del Mar and Pomona, Santa Anita, Golden Gate Fields and Hollywood Park in California; Hialeah, Gulfstream and Tropical Park in Florida. Atlantic City in New Jersey; Keeneland in Kentucky; Naragansett Park in Rhode Island; Suffolk Downs in Massachusetts; and Waterford Park in West Virginia.

VIRGINIA

LLANGOLLEN SALE

Mrs. M. E. Lunn is selling at her Llangollen Farm, near Upperville, Va., on June 14th at auction, 46 horses from the bloodlines which have made the name Llangollen famous on the race track and in the show ring. There are eight lots by the deceased stallion Bonne Nuit (*Royal Canopy-*Bonne Cause, by Elf), sire of many great hunters and jumpers including Riviera Wonder and Sinbad, both currently members of the U. S. Equestrian Jumping Team now campaigning in Europe. Two full sisters to Riviera Wonder, open jumper champion at the National Horse Show at Madison Square Garden for three successive years (1955-1957) are among these. There is also a grey 3-year-old stud colt by Bonne Nuit out of Sisterly Love, by Great War, whose grand dam Brave Bonnie (also a daughter of *Bonne Cause) is the dam of Adventure who as a 4-year-old won both the green and conformation hunter championships at the National Horse Show. Virginy, also by Bonne Nuit, is a grey mare who has recently been one of the top conformation show hunters in California.

There is also some excellent racing stock including six lots by *Endeavour

II, sire of Porterhouse, Corn Husker and Big Effort, recent winner of the Belmont Acorn Stakes, the American equivalent of the British 1,000 Guineas. Among these is Corn Husker's full brother who has been a good winner on the flat.

MEANDER FARM YEARLINGS

Miss Julia Shearer of Meander Farm, Locust Dale, Va. is prepping a group of six yearlings for the fall Keeneland sales. Top of the list is a full bay brother to Little Kid, the stakes-placed filly by Degage-Vital by *Princequillo, that was sold last fall. The mistress of Meander reports that this strapping colt is larger now than the successful Little Kid was at sale time.

There are two nice Degage fillies in the Kentucky bound group, one out of the Display mare, Disornate, and the other out of Speed Mil, an attractive daughter of Reaping Reward. The first foal of the Prince Simon mare, Windy Wench by *Bahram. Another colt by the home sire Degage out of Nobel by Reaping Reward is also scheduled for the October sales.

Miss Shearer says that Degage, a handsome dappled brown son of Bull Leaminstress by Wise Counsellor, has had a top book this spring, with his list of winners, which includes the recent Laurel winner Interrogation, this consistent young sire is proving a real asset to Virginia breeders.

Madame Leon Volterra's Noelior (Vatellor-Manoela), winning the Prix Noailles at Longchamp (France) in a style which established him as the best 3-year-old to appear in France up to that time. He is trained by Francois Mathet and was ridden by Max Garcia.

FROM ABROAD

BIG WINNER FROM ELLSWORTH MARE

First French success of the present English season was scored in the important Princess Elizabeth Stakes at Epsom for three-year-old fillies, which up to that time was the most valuable race yet contested, first prize money being nearly $17,500.

In a field of sixteen, Prince Aly Khan's Princess Lora just held on in a photo finish by a neck to beat the Queen's beautifully-bred Persian Wheel (*Tulyar-Sun Chariot), but she may have been a little lucky to win, for Lester Piggott chose to switch the Royal filly between the winner and the rails, and did not have room to get through. Princess Lora came in with evidence of the jostling, blood pouring from her near hind leg, and Piggott was afterwards interviewed by the Stewards.

Princess Lora is by Prince Chevalier, the French Derby winner, out of the wonderful racemare *Nikellora who won both the fillies Classics in France as well as the Prix de L'Arc de Triomphe. At last year's Newmarket December sales, the fifteen-year-old *Nikellora, in foal to Prince Chevalier, was obtained by Rex Ellsworth for $35,000.

LLANGOLLEN SALE

Ralph Retler, sales manager for the Fasig-Tipton Company in California, recently released the list of 47 Thoroughbreds constituting the California breeding stock of Mrs. M. E. Lunn of the Llangollen Farm, Upperville, Va., to be sold at the Los Angeles County Fair Grounds, Pomona, Calif., on Monday, June 30th. Of the 28 broodmares, approximately half are imported; most of them will have foals at foot by sale time, sired by such horses as *Khaled, General Staff, Phalanx and others. Five yearlings and two horses in training will also be included.

ROLLING PLAINS YEARLINGS

Once again Mrs. Joseph Walker of Rolling Plains Stables, Unionville, Va., will be well represented at the Fasig-Tipton Yearling Sales at Saratoga, by five well bred yearlings. A brown colt by Native Dancer out of Rytina by Milkman. Rytina is the dam of the winners Irony, Moby Dick and the Stakes Winner Card Trick. A black colt by High Gun out of Skimmer, by Milkman. She the dam of the stakes winners Milk Baron and Doe Run. A chestnut colt by *Big Dipper out of Miss Gusher by *Djeddah. This is a first foal. A chestnut filly by Battlefield out of *High Stepper by Hyperion, half sister to Evil One by Tom Fool. The chestnut colt by Supreme Court out of the stakes winning mare Joyce Grove, by Bois Roussel, a half brother to Day Court now at Elmdorf Farm, Ky.

*Sullivan is a chestnut horse (1944) by Panorama-My Aid, by Knight of the Garter and was bred by Joseph McGrath at Brownstone Stud in Ireland. He is owned by Mrs. Ann Peppers of Merryman Farm, Moreno, Calif.

*Sullivan ran in both Ireland and the U. S., and has become one of the most respected sires in the West. He won his first start at two; and showed in his other three Irish starts, including the Leopards-town Produce Stakes, to earn 370 pounds before his importation to the U. S. In this country he took five of eight starts in good company; and showed in two other efforts, including the Will Rogers Stakes, to collect $23,650.

His 4th crop went to the races this year and in his first three small crops he has been represented by such runners as Mr. Sullivan, winners of the Haggin and California Breeders' Trial Stakes, and San Jose Handicap; Lucky G. L., who scored in the Berkley Handicap and Sully's Trial, which took her first six starts including the junior Miss and Santa Ynez Stakes; also Silky Sullivan, the most notorious "space grabber" in modern turf history. ## An American Foxhunter Abroad

The Heythrop

Wilbur Hubbard, M.F.H.

Captain R. E. Wallace, joint master of the Heythrop, has acquired a great reputation in England as a brilliant huntsman. When planning this trip, so many people said, "You must have a day with Ronnie Wallace of the Heythrop."

Seeing the hounds in kennels was interesting as it was obvious he is after performance and pays little attention to size, type, or color. There were in the pack he hunted the day I went out some very big red and white dog hounds with tremendous bone and heads as big as a St. Bernard. There were also some of the new lighter kind which had won at Peterborough. There was a dog hound recently acquired from Sir Peter Farquhar of the Portman. They plan to use him. He was a good looking hound of the new light type Sir Peter is advocating. Also in the pack was a dog hound gotten from the Cotley. He looked awfully small alongside of some of those great big ones. He was a very compact, well made little hound.

They hunt mixed packs and keep the ones which are hunted together in the same kennel, regardless of sex.

The Heythrop meet was at North Aston.

The Hunt Staff wears green reminiscent of the days when this part of the country was hunted by the Dukes of Beaufort. The country was separated in 1835 but for 120 years they have continued to wear the traditional green with 6 large brass buttons on the coat tails.

It was quite pretty to see Capt. Ronnie Wallace bring the hounds to the little English Village Green.

Lt. Col. Barrow, joint master, took charge of the field. There was a slight drizzle as we moved off.

My hired horse came from a man named Tilke at Stratford-on-Avon. It was a small brown mare about 15:2 with a lot of quality. She looked like some of *Esterling's get. She was a good hunter and turned out to be the best jumper I had so far in England, and that was a good thing for we jumped more fences today than in all the previous 10 hunts put together.

Hounds soon found and went away. They have more voice than most of the English packs I have heard. They ran quite well and fast, unassisted for about 25 minutes until they came to a village where they checked among the houses. There were any number of things the fox could have done there. Capt. Wallace tried hard to help them pick up the line. He cast the other side of the village, they ran a few hundred yards back toward the village. I thought at first it was the heel of the line, but all of the hounds did not speak on this and they could not carry it the other way. Some hounds smelled at a drain under the road. The fox may have gone through it, but was not in the large pipe then. The Captain spent a lot of time and effort trying to help them work it out, but finally gave it up reluctantly.

We went down a hard road. The Captain went into a field to draw. Because of wire, he dismounted and walked with hounds while someone took his horse around. This reminded me of home. We went through a very deep muddy lane. The Captain remounted and joined us. He then drew a kale field - these fields are very small, sometimes only 4 or 5 acres and rarely over 12 or 15.

I viewed a fox away - with hounds close behind - but the fox only went across two of those small fields before ducking into a drain. Capt. Wallace drew right back to the other end of the same kale field and hounds went away on the other side of it. He said they were about 5 minutes behind this fox, for someone had viewed it while hounds were marking the other at the drain.

Then we had a good run across lovely rolling grass country with many of the hedge and ditch fences to jump. This fox made a big circle for I recognized it coming back to some of the same little fields. After 26 minutes there was a check. Hounds were cast forward and picked it up again. Then they went on another 20 minutes at a slower, intermittent pace. The drizzle changed to a spitting rain and the wind came up, which certainly did not help scent. Hounds checked again where there were plowed fields on both sides of a little - used road.

Capt. Wallace did not hesitate, he cast forward across a grass field to a kale field, putting hounds in there. A fox was viewed out of the kale, but I was not at all sure it was the same fox. Hounds were put on and were off again. More galloping over nice rolling country. Col. Barrow was trying out a gray mare. She refused a brook. He was furious, changed to his own horse.

Many refused the brook and had to go around.

After some 18 minutes, hounds were at fault again. They were cast in several directions and finally over into some gorse. A fox was viewed away from there. This I am sure was a fresh fox. Captain Wallace does this kind of thing well and keeps his large following happy, for they were galloping and jumping most of the time for an hour and a half.

The wind got higher and made the spitting sting one's face like sleet. In spite of this weather, hounds ran this fox another 20 minutes, but more slowly. The pretty girl who had been so friendly had a fall, but was not hurt. More jumping of big hedges, which my little mare did well. We were soaking wet by now. The storm got worse, hounds lost the line, and Capt. Wallace gave up, for which we were all thankful.

Mrs. Wallace kindly invited me for tea. Being soaked, I went back for a hot bath and change first. Enjoyed a long talk with the Captain about the differences in hounds and hunting. He lives for that alone and has come by his reputation rightfully.

WOODBROOK HUNT CLUB

c/o Mrs. J. F. Koons,
803 South Union Avenue,
Tacoma, Washington,
Established 1925.
Registered 1936.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: - The following recently appeared in Dan Walton's column "Sports-log" in the Sunday edition of the Portland, Oregon "News Tribune".)

The success story of Tacoma's Woodbrook Hunt Club, oldest Hunt west of the Mississippi, was underlined by two communications recently received by Nelson B. Davis, club president.

The first notified President Davis that for the first time this year the Woodbrook Club's horse show has been selected for listing in the New York Times' calendar of outstanding events throughout the nation. The listing is scheduled for the Times' issue of May 11.

The full membership of the Woodbrook Club is now working on the spring show at the club's arena May 17 and 18.

The second honor to the local organization was a commendation from Lawrence C. Phipps Jr., Western and Coast district representative of the Master of Foxhounds Assn.

Phipps long has been master of the famed Arapahoe Hunt of Denver and is recognized as one of the nation's foremost equestrians and breeders. He is a dedicated worker for the improvement of foxhound bloodlines for American hunting. Phipps has shown a personal interest in the Woodbrook Club for many years, and is personally known to several of the members.

"I wish to compliment you on the excellent article in The Chronicle. This is somewhat in line with the suggestion I have made about having information concerning the western hunts appear in The Chronicle so that the people in the East and even abroad would have some appreciation of what is being done," Phipps wrote.

The Chronicle is published weekly at Middleburg, Va., and it is regarded as a top authority on horses and horsemen. It has an international circulation.

The "excellent article" to which Phipps referred was written by Edwin J. Blake, a member of the Woodbrook Hunt staff. It gave an authoritative and detailed report of the club's activities.

TEWKSBURY FOOT BASSETS
Far Hills,
New Jersey.
Established 1950.

Almost a hundred people turned up at the meet at the Head of Long Lane after a somewhat inactive February because of snow and ice. The sun was out part of the time. No wind and wet ground made an ideal hunting day.

We hunted a mixed pack of fourteen and a half couples. In addition to the staff, the field included the sun tanned honorary hunt secretary just returned from Nassau, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Perrin, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bourne, Mr. Richard Buel, Reese Howard Ex. scotta, Maine, Mr. Gibson all the way from Montclair, and Mitchell Brock a former Treweyn regular now living in Princeton who ran field for field with Joint Master Fales throughout the two hour and a quarter run which followed.

After drawing blank in the Pierrepont "landing field" we crossed to the Van Deventer front paddock and here fortunately our most expert Whipper-In Peggy Wemple spotted a brown hare, creeping away low toward the rose bushes at the West end of the field. She ran out to the Dillon Long Lane farm barns and then circled back right handed past the garage and up to the road between Douglas Dillons House and the stable. Here a doubling maneuver caused us to loose almost half an hour. The hare ran out into the field North East of the stable squatted and then retraced her line back to the road and out by the Turkey runs back of George Nielands house. It was a great satisfaction finally to figure out this complication because this same hare had completely beaten us by doing the same thing late in January. When we recovered the line it was very cold, but they stuck to it and ran with increasing pace out to the Dillon front gate across the road into the Pierrepont farm and to the hill by the Martin tennis court. Here a jack got up and was chopped by half the pack, the remaining half continuing on round to the Slater stable and back to the road where they checked and made it possible for the other half of the pack to catch up.

The line was recovered at the Dillon front gate and now took us a straight 2 1/2 mile point at an ever increasing pace to Douglas house, then across through the park west of the big house and over the golf course to Mrs. Clucas on Long Lane. By this time the field was reduced to Mrs. Cannon, David Reeves and Mitchell Brock. The line recovered after a slight check at the road now took us back across lovely meadows to the indoor tennis court,

Beaglers Point-to-Point

The 19th Annual running of the Tre-wern Beagles Foot Point-to-Point Races took place Easter Sunday, 6 April 1958.

Due to the heavy and steady rain that fell throughout the day, all entries were started from the Radnor Hunt Stables which provided welcome relief prior to essaying the races; the going, of course, was hock deep.

The first race, the Children's Race for those 12 and under, was about 1 mile in length to the John West stable and back. Winning girl was Edith Lamb; winning boy David Widing.

The Ladies Race of about 3 miles consisted of 3 points, namely Bryn Clovis Farm, the Quaker Meeting and back to the start at the Radnor Hunt Stables. Mrs. Robert. C. Lea won both the fastest time and the first to finish trophies, followed very closely by Patsy Harrison.

The Gentlemen's Race was over a course of 4.45 miles with 3 points, namely Bryn Clovis Farm, Delchester Farm Gate and back to the Radnor Hunt. Despite the extremely unpleasant weather there were twenty-one starters of which twenty finished, the largest entry in recent years. Ronald Houghton was the winner with the fastest time and also first across with the phenomenal time of 27:50, nearly six minutes better than his closest contender in the person of brother Edward Houghton.

Ideal time in the Ladies Race was won by Sally Craven, and in the Gentlemen's Race by Francis Walsh. It is interesting to note that in the latter race, the ideal time winner finished 10th, or half-way down the list of those who finished.

Summaries:

Ladies race: 1. Mrs. R. C. Lea, 36; 2. Patsy Harrison, 36:30; 3. Julie Manniz, 37:30.

Gentlemen's Race: 1. Ronald B. Houghton, 27:50; 2. George S. Hundt, 34; 3. Lester T. Hundt, Jr., 37.

Ideal (46.30): 1. Francis Walsh, 47:15; 2. Peter Illoway, 48.

SHOW HORSE BROODMARE

A nominee for "show horse broodmare of the year" is Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Motch's Shallow Water by Sunador or Jackson River. On May 10, this matron's lovely chestnut two-year-old, The Dynasty, by Seven League, won the V.H.S.A. event at Keswick over a fine group of youngsters. At the same show, her daughter, Skipper's Fate by Battleship, was outstanding in the working hunter division and won three stiff classes, including the stake.

Last year, Distant Shore, Shallow Water's handsome bay son by Sea Marriage, was reserve V.H.S.A. champ to the Motch stablemate, Modern Design. On Mother's Day, in honor of all these tri-color performers, the mare foaled a blazed face chestnut colt by *Castle Hill. The new future contender has been appropriately named, Sand Castle. J. A.

IRISH HUNTER POPULATION

In an article in a recent issue of "The Light Horse", Michael Hall remarks: "Figures show that the horse population of Ireland is dropping at the rate of some 16,000 a year. The 1956 census gave 276,400 as the number of horses still in the country, but, if the present rate of decline is allowed to continue, Ireland will be in a bad way for horses in fifteen years' time. Between 1955 and 1956 the horse population fell by 19,874.

"The rock upon which the Irish hunter has been built is the Irish draught mare—a tough shortlegged butty animal carrying very little feather, which, crossed with a Thoroughbred, throws the world's best hunters. Now that more and more tractors are being used to till the fields, the Irish draught is becoming extinct."

WARNER FARM

Mrs. Eve Louise Warner of Sound View Farms, Fairfield, Conn., who is a regular exhibitor in hunter classes throughout the New England and eastern New York area, has purchased a new farm in Southbury, Conn., and will expand her breeding and training facilities to handle up to 30 horses.

The new location, with more than 100 acres of pasture, crop land and woods, puts the Warner operations within 15 miles of the Fairfield, Middlebury and Litchfield County hunts. She is a regular with the Middlebury. C. W. K.

PREGNANCY EXAMINATION

Modern veterinary science has evolved a number of tests designed to determine whether valuable Thoroughbred broodmares are in foal. In 1735 these matters could be determined with considerably less difficulty as set forth in "The Sportsman's Dictionary", published in London. "Now in case some time after the mare has taken horse, you are uncertain whether she be with foal or not, pour a spoonful of cold water or vinegar into her ear, and if she only shakes her head, it is a sign she is with foal; but if she shakes her head, body and all, it is a sign she is not."

Don Bosco

The Don Bosco all children's horse show turned out to be a good one. The weather was fine and the comfortable facilities made it a very pleasant day.

All of the open jumper classes were judged under F.E.I. rules, and everyone agreed that this is why these events were most popular, both with exhibitors and spectators.

Geoffrey Craig, 14-year-old protege of Victor Hugo-Vidal, displayed his fine riding skill by winning both the Maclay, and AHSA Medal. But he was second to Paula Pfister, 14 year old Miss from Allendale, in the open class. In the championship class, these two youngsters changed horses, and Geoffrey Craig riding Miss Pfister's pony, Velvet Shadow, put on quite a show. Miss Pfister did well on Craig's Holy Smoke, but the judges gave the nod to Craig for champion.

There is no doubt that these riders from the 'younger set' show that they are as accomplished as their elders.

The horse show world need not worry about the future of showing as long as it is in the hands of these fine riding youngsters.

Fairfax Hunt

Cool breezes, good footing, and a multitude of horses were the order of the day for the Fairfax Hunt Horse Show. Although it was generally agreed that there were too many classes (29 were scheduled and the last championship was not decided until 9:00 PM), the show went off smoothly in most other respects.

For Mr. John S. Pettibone the list of victors read like an old and very familiar story. Gallery Lad, undefeated in the championship ranks of working hunters this year, again took home the tricolor, while Hapgood, the four-year old pride of the Pettibone stable, captured the honors in the Green Conformation division.

Of the seventeen horses brought from the Madeira School by Madge Barclay and Mildred Gaines, Small Fry took the most ribbons, among which was the Small Hunter championship. Richard Zimmerman's Jallamar was given the reserve after a hack-off to break the tie with Small Fry.

Always a hotly contested event, the A. S. P. C. A. Equitation class was even fuller than usual. Eventually, after changing horses, Miss Beverly Harrison was judged the winner over Miss Diane Baxter. Beverly borrowed Mrs. Phillip Connors' French Pastry for the class, after which the bay mare went on to take the Green Working Hunter title under the guidance of Mrs. Terry Jenkins.

Mrs. Margot Edwards, the sister of screen star Maureen O'Hara, rode her Janella to the blue in the senior section of the Fairfax Hunters. Tom Corcoran, junior MFH of the Fairfax Hunt, was the victor in the junior section with his own Northblen.

Brentwood

The magic of Spring, a beautiful setting, and a class for "everybody", but more especially for those under 19, added up to a wonderful day the third Saturday in May at Calvin Houghland's Bright Hour Farm.

The P.T.A. of historic Robertson Academy stages the annual hack and horsemanship show as its money making scheme of the year, with the Bright Hour Hunter Trials, memorializing one of Calvin Houghland's first steeplechasers, as the picturesque curtain raiser.

In being adjudged the best all-round hunter of the Trials, Schedule, chestnut Thoroughbred gelding, owned by John A. Sloan with John, Jr., up, triumphed over 20 others.

Noel Anderson, 16, on her Thoroughbred mare, Twelfth Hour, bred and raised at Bright Hour Farm, topped competition in the ring show with four firsts, counting victories in the pair and family classes. Balanced seat horsemanship 13-18 and hunter seat horsemanship any age (46 competing) were the individual blue ribbons.

Nearly every child enrolled in Robertson Academy must have been there, and when a colleague won a ribbon, cheers overwhelmed the loud speaker.

Since the advent of the Middle Tennessee Pony Club in October, 1953, jeans, sport shirts, sneakers, plug ponies tacked up any old way, and untaught riders have practically disappeared from the Brentwood Horse Show. M. L. W.

THE CHRONICLE
Cornell

With 75 horses in competition and a demonstrative audience present all day, the 1958 renewal of the Cornell Horse Show was a sporting and financial success. Exhibitors vanned to Ithaca from a 100-mile radius, evidently welcoming the chance to show in an indoor ring after the long, hard winter and slow spring.

An unusual circumstance showed up in the Regular Working Hunter Division when five horses tied in points and hacked off for the championship. The AHSA Medal Class drew no fewer than 26 contestants. An oddity of the show was the total absence of grey horses.

TANBARK

Somewhat or other, the subject of tanbark came up for discussion in the secretary's stand at the Sugartown Horse Show. Then everyone looked around at everyone else, and suddenly realized they didn't know what tanbark was, really. Jim Duffy supplied the answer. It is the bark of oak trees, which is used to tan animal hides at tanneries. Hence "Tanbark."

Brookville Stable

The Brookville Stable Early show made a successful debut with an enormous number of maidens, novices etc. and a goodly number of entries in all divisions.

The rain, caused no disruption until the last jumping class, the tandem for team competition. It was wisely decided to cancel the event and award the team title on previous points won to the Smithtown team which had many faultless performances by members, Jane Richmond, Nancy Pratt, Kristy Asbury and Chester Dentan. Reserve was the Sunrise team, whose mainstay was George Brush Jr's Sunday, also winner of his second L.I.P.H.A. Cup class and, thusly leader to date for the yearly competition. Sunday, in addition was jumper reserve to the Thomas School's Sunday Jump, ridden by Fran Fricker.

Mrs. A. L. Corey Jr's Nova Bill made his first Long Island appearance a most satisfactory one by gaining the hunter title. Only recently arrived from Aiken, the chestnut gelding won the handy hunter for rider Pat Corey.

Besides his team victory, Chester Dentan, who has come into his own this spring in the horsemanship division won both the medal and the championship. In both classes he had some brilliant rounds in spite of the mud to edge Susan Schier.

Valley Knoll Junior

Several children, who have been "knocking" for ribbons in the larger shows this past year, showed great potential when put in the ring with children of equal experience. From a timid-appearing passenger, champion rider Leslie Baldinger has developed into a capable rider (and competitor) for the experienced set to watch. Both Leslie and reserve rider Hesty Kramer are under 13 years of age and have four or five very promising years in the junior division.

This correspondent was favorably impressed not only by the improvement in riding of last year's entrants, but more so by the courage and confidence gained over a year's time. Children whose courage was completely sapped by a walk-trot class last year were sailing around the outdoor course without a care in the world. The same children aren't ready for the larger shows now; however, it's shows like this one where they can compete with fellow novices (and perhaps pick up a ribbon or two) that provide the boost in morale so necessary to beginning riders.

Emma Willard Junior

The first show of the season dawned warm and fair for a wonder due to all the rain that this part of the country has had; we could have expected anything. The show was well attended, with over thirty entries in most every class. There were entrants from Foxhollow School, Smith College, as well as many privately owned horses in addition to Emma Willard girls. The equitation championship went to an EW girl, Jean Mahoney. The hack championship went to Miss Scofield of Smith College on her own horse, Tommy with Misty Hills Stables' entry, Misty's Copper Glow taking the reserve. The working Hunter champion was a private entry Mr. Sandman owned and ridden by Miss Gayle Albertine from My Play Stables. The reserve was tied between two EW horses, Que Sera and Meshach.

Schooling & Judging Clinic

A Schooling and Judging Clinic for Hunters and Hunter Seat Equitation, one of the most beneficial and interesting shows ever to be presented in this area, was held May 10 at Jack Sterling's Wind-swept Acres, Dover, Pa. The event was sponsored by the Sterling School of Equitation and was received enthusiastically by spectators and riders alike.

Mr. Christopher Wadsworth of Holicong, Pa., one of the country's outstanding judges, officated. The success of the clinic was due largely to Mr. Wadsworth's knowledge, patience, and thoroughness.

All exhibitors and spectators were able to act as judges as score cards were available to all. As an entrant was finished in his class he was encouraged to judge the others. If under saddle, the class was divided, half the entries judging and half riding and then changing over. Mr. Wadsworth not only gave his reasons for his final results but discussed and compared each horse and rider as the classes were in progress. He gave each rider helpful instruction on better horsemanship and improving the performance of his horse. Conformation and unsoundness were discussed in minute detail. The hope was expressed by many present that this type of clinic may become an annual event.

Many thanks go to Jack Sterling for his farsightedness in recognizing the need for this type of clinic and to Mr. Chris Wadsworth for making the goal of the clinic a reality. S.M.B.

The HORSEMASTERS

by Don Stanford

If your sons or daughters share your liking for horses, this story will certainly prove a delight.

The tale of a young American who goes to a famous English riding school with but one ambition ... to pass the difficult British Horse Society's examination for a coveted Preliminary Instructor's Certificate.

Based on the author's experiences at an actual school, the book tells how a small group of young people react to the strict regime imposed and slowly learn the difference between a mere rider and a true horseman. They come to understand their responsibility to their mounts, struggle to master the fine points of horsemanship, and finally compete for a chance to attend the British Hunter Trial.

It's a book filled with the sights and sounds of the English country side ... the feeling of a cross-country ride on a frosty morning ... the smell of sawdust in the academy with the sounds of cantering horses ... the heart-warming affection between the girl, Mercy Hale, and her mount, Pennant ... and the thrills of the final examination itself.

A sample of the critical praise this book has received

"This reader would rather have one book like this than a dozen of the run-of-the-mill glamorous horse stories in which an unlikely specimen is cherished by some girl or boy until it wins a great prize against tremendous odds ... Accurate, well-presented professional information on every part of the training and care of horses."—N. Y. Herald Tribune

Pass Christian Polo

Alexander B. Bowers

North, East, West and South, Polo is growing. The great equestrian game has once again returned to the Gulf Coast... not to one of the Coast's major cities, but to the small coastal town of Pass Christian, Mississippi.

Under the guiding leadership of Paul Ratliff a group consisting of Sidney Ball, Dr. A. T. Butterworth, Dr. James E. Byrd, James H. Drury, A. C. Dutton, A. J. Frey, William R. Matkin, R. G. Robinson and Roy Saux formed the Pass Christian Polo Club, rented land, built stables, and purchased ponies. Moral and physical support was received from the very generous Arthur Herman of Memphis, Tennessee.

The magnitude of the job facing this group can best be understood by noting that not one of the original playing group had any polo experience. Lt. Gen. Doyle O. Hickey, USA (Ret.) was of great assistance in giving advice based on his many years of polo experience in the U. S. Army. Books were bought and diligently read by all participants. Advice received from Mr. Herman during his visits was enthusiastically practiced for weeks and weeks. As the weeks ran into months the small band of eager poloists began to look like a real team. Rules were learned, argued and re-learned; mallets began to look ball worn instead of grass stained and the membership increased with the addition of Sandy Bowers, James J. Coleman, James H. Dunbar, Egon Kamarasy, William J. O'Callaghan and J. Edward Williams.

Thursday, Saturday and Sunday practice sessions, and daily riding by those who could afford the time began to show their effects. Competition among the members became keener and keener, and the games more exciting. The one big question always present in everyone's mind was their ability to stand up against an experienced team from outside. The consensus of opinion was that the boys were ready to give it a try. On April 20th for the First Annual Ciudad Trujillo Polo Cup a team consisting of Winston Cheairs, Craft Dewey, Arnold Klyce, James Maddox and Dr. E. B. Wilkinson arrived from Memphis, Tennessee.

At this point, the writer must make mention of the wonderful job performed by the "polo windows". The Memphis game was scheduled to be played for a local charity. Phones were ringing off the walls for days before the big game. Trophies arrived, dignitaries were invited, luncheons planned, cocktail parties scheduled and suddenly the rented field, bare spots and all, emerged much as the fabled Cinderella. Banners flew, stands went up, boxes were constructed, boards gleamed with their new paint, and the goalposts looked like brand new barber poles.

THE CHRONICLE

The day of the game, the cars began arriving, slowly at first and then bumper to bumper. Over 2,000 people were on hand when the announcer introduced the teams. Many of the anxious spectators were seeing their first polo game. They could not have picked a more exciting starter. Pass Christian, considerably out-mounted, turned on a spectacular show. After a hard fought scoreless first chukker Memphis bounced back to make four goals in the second chukker with Dr. Wilkinson and Winston Cheairs dividing the scoring duties. During the next three periods William Matkin sparked the Pass Christian team in steadily closing the gap until the score was tied at 8 goals each. The more experienced Memphis players were hard pressed to hold the Pass Christian team and with only seconds to play in the sixth period the score was still tied up when the Memphis star player, Winston Cheairs, rammed through two quick goals for a final 10 to 8 win.

Memphis	Pass Christian
1. W. Cheairs	W. Matkin
C. Dewey
2. E. B. Wilkinson	P. Ratliff
J. Maddox
3. A. Klyce	J. Byrd
Memphis	0 4 1 1 2 2 10
Pass Christian	0 0 2 2 4 0 8

Scoring: Memphis - Cheairs 4, Wilkinson 3, Dewey 2, Klyce 1 - Pass Christian - Matkin 4, Ratliff 2, Byrd 2.

As the discarded paper cups began to out-number the lingering spectators the Pass Christian players looked around at what they had accomplished. Polo was definitely back on the Gulf Coast and was here to stay.

Taking a few hours leave from Navy duty aboard the U. S. S. Helena, Charles Guy, son of former international polo player, Tom "Red" Guy, visited the Will Rogers Polo Club in Pacific Palisades, California, where he renewed acquaintance with members who had played with his famous father. Charles, now rated at one goal, is a member of the St. Croix Polo Club in the Virgin Islands, where his father is polo manager. Due to ill health, "Red" retired from active polo last year, but the name of Guy will be carried on in polo circles by son, Charles. E.H.

Devon Children's Day

Margaret L. Smith

Smokey Joe, that amazing little dapple gray pony from Beacon Hall Farm, Glencoe, Md., which has held the top title for small ponies in the nation for several years, again triumphed when he won the under 13.0 championship at Devon for the second successive year, with 13 points.

Smokey's victory came near the end of a 16-hour Children's Day at Devon when his rider, Patsy Worrall, Glencoe, Md., received the championship challenge trophy presented by Mr. and Mrs. George Betz. Patsy, thirteen, rode the pony during all the hunter classes, while Diane Wilkerson, nine, rode him in the modified FEI event. Patsy has ridden the pony for owners Elise and Billy Boyce for four years, winning countless championships.

Johnny Cake, from Mrs. Gregory I. McIntosh's Waverly Farms, Warrenton, Va., another of the nation's top contenders, came in for the reserve small pony championship ribbon, ridden throughout the show by Billy Doyle, eleven, of Southern Pines, N. C.

Little nine-year-old Terry Rudd, of Berwyn, Pa., was elated when her eight-year-old bay gelding, Hot Shot Kid, captured the tri-color in the large pony division, amassing ten points. Mimi Cummin, of Villanova, Pa., placed in the reserve spot with Coupon, gaining seven points. Terry received the challenge trophy presented by the Women's Board of the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

In the over 13 hunter stake, the Harry Rose Memorial Challenge trophy was captured by Chase Me, owned and ridden by Debbie Buchanan, Valley Forge.

The Junior Hunter Champion was Linden Farm's Gold Garter, Chester Springs, Pa., ridden for many ribbons throughout the show by Barbara Smith. Gold Garter received the Anita Porter Clothier Memorial Challenge Trophy. Derbydown Stable's Redwood, ridden by Beverly Ritter, was close, taking reserve with eight points. Sara Nan Payne's beautiful white mare, Marianna, ridden by Deedee Drake, captured the hunter stake, and the Charles Diesinger trophy.

Joan Draper, of Westport, Conn., was the star of the equitation events, winning not only the AHSA medal class, hunter seat, but the "best child rider" award, based on her performance throughout the show. Thirty-nine youngsters competed for the title and for the Challenge trophy donated by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McGinn.

The excellent performances in the modified FEI event for ponies made it apparent that we need have no fear of lacking riders for our U. S. Equestrian Team, ten or so years hence. Divided into two groups — ponies 13 and under, which jumped two feet, six inches, and ponies over 13.0 to 14.2 to jump three feet — there were fourteen faultless performances.

Six of the tinier steeds had perfect rounds, including the eventual winner, Pretty Penny, owned by Parnell Gore and ridden by Chuckie Gore; also Smokey Joe, with Diane Wilkerson riding; Mimi Cummin's Peanut Brittle, Miles River Diamond of Welsh Valley Farm, whose rider had two spills on the jump-off; Thomas N. Dowd's Lucky, and Miss Margot Mayer on Dandy Boy. Pretty Penny went clean again on the jump-off, and Smokey had only three faults. The two of them fairly flew the course, straight and clean, looking exactly like an Olympic jumper should.

In the large pony FEI, there were eight ponies with perfect rounds and it took two jump-offs to determine the winners. Both Sweet Timothy, owned and ridden by Debbie Buchanan, and Roddy Wanemaker with Quaker Maid, had three faultless performances, with time the deciding factor in the second jump-off. Debbie made the course in 59 1/5 seconds to win the blue, while Roddy's time was 112 1/5 seconds.

The victory in the modified FEI for children's horses went to Saint Nick, of Derbydown Stables, ridden by Ruth Calhoun, after a jump-off. On the first round five horses tied with four faults each; on the jump-off Saint Nick was clean, and Cottage Den, with Laurie Ratliff in the irons, had four faults to take second. The others tossed for position.

It is always a pleasure to see the family classes at Devon, when the Mothers and Dads can share the limelight with their talented children. There were fourteen entries in the parent and child class, won by Raymond Burr, and his daughter Susan, of Kimberton Hills Farms. In the Family class, with five groups entered, the winners were the Biddle family — Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Biddle Jr., sons H. Canby Biddle III, and Grafton Minot Biddle, of Chester Springs. The largest group was the Lockhart family, of Wayne — Mrs. F. Norton Lockhart and her five daughters, Pat, March, Betsy, Leslie and Lynn, who won third place. Second was captured by Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence B. Kelley, daughter Louise and son Lance, of Chester Springs. Mr. Kelley is president of the Devon Horse Show.

There were at least 175 child riders entered in the largest Devon Horse Show in history, which had a programmed entry list of 805 horses. The beautifully turned out youngsters performed in perfect weather, although it did turn cold at night. Everyone left the show grounds with their fingers crossed that night, hoping the good weather would endure throughout the week-to get the place and *Gallant Man closed well to nose out Mr. Turf for third. He was 1 1/2 lengths behind the second horse.

Bold Ruler took down $37, 620 for his 1.22 3/5 sprint.

He won the Toboggan in his only other 1958 start, and has season's earnings of $56,202.

In 1957, the son of *Nasrullah - Miss Disco, by Discovery, won 11 races and $415,160.

He was bred by Wheatley Stable (Mrs. H. C. Phipps) and is trained by Jim Fitzsimmons and family.

Delaware Park

Delaware Park opened its meeting on May 29 and carried on in Santa Anitaish manner with three stakes in the first three days. They were the Wilmington Handicap on opening day, the Polly Drummond Stakes on Memorial Day and the Brandywine Turf Handicap on the 31st.

Mr. C. Mahlon Kline's Beau Pilot scampered home with the prize in the six-furlong Wilmington. The four-year-old son of Mr. Busher (out of Beau Jet, by Jet Pilot) led almost from the start and won by one length over Jovial Jove. Star Rover and General Riley followed. The race was worth $8,725 and the mutuels price was $15.20.

It was the third straight win for Beau Pilot and the fourth in '58. He has started

Hound Pedigree Books

Dear Sir:

During my hunting tour of England last year a number of leading Masters of Foxhounds showed me their Hound Pedigree Books. They were uniformly beautiful, all being hand printed, partially in old English lettering, and done in red and black ink. It turned out that they had all been done by the same person, Miss Daphne Moore, who is an enthusiastic fox hunter and a great authority on English Foxhound blood lines.

Miss Moore kindly consented to do such a book for me. At my request she changed the style somewhat, copying the wording and pedigrees which I sent her, and doing it in 4 colors, which unfortunately do not show up in black and white photographs. Done in red, black, blue and green, the pages look like ancient illuminated manuscripts.

Other American Masters could add a very handsome personal volume to their libraries by having such a book done by Miss Daphne Moore, who now lives on the estate of the Duke of Beaufort.

Sincerely,
Wilbur Hubbard, M.F.H.

10 times, and his earnings total $23,000. Oliver Cutshaw was the rider. Morris Dixon, Sr. trains for Mr. Kline. Beau Pilot was bred by Mr. Leslie Combs II.

The Polly Drummond Stakes for two-year-old fillies, resulted in something of an upset, because the two most-heavily-bet-on horse finished "nowhere."

Fifinella Miss, the 11-to-10 choice never got to running and ended up in seventh place, and Translucent, at 3 1/2 to 1, finished tenth of ten.

Mr. C. T. Chenery's Imperial Hill scored her maiden victory in the race, nailing the pace-setting Colonel's Queen in the stretch and pulling out to score by one-half length. She paid $15.80 in the $2 line.

Imperial Hill was making her second start - finished fourth at Belmont in her other try.

She is cut out to be a good performer, as she is by Hill Prince, out of Imperatrice, by Caruso.

Frank Lovato rode her and collected ten per cent of $9,325 for his effort.

J. H. Hayes trains the Chenery horses and conditioned Hill Prince, the sire of Imperial Hill.

Mr. Chenery bred the filly.

*Tudor Era, a good horse on the turf, reaffirmed this point in the 1 1/16-mile Brandywine Turf Handicap on the last day of May.

The five-year-old son of Owen Tudor (from Erica Frangans, by Big Game) won by three-quarters of a length over Red God, with Liberty Sun third and Pop Corn fourth. The time, 1:42 2/5, established a new track mark.

Liberty Sun (owned by R. E. Faircloth and carrying top weight of 120 pounds) cut out the pace, with Red God (110) pressing. *Tudor Era was in fifth place until moving around the last bend, when he began overhauling the front ones. He was third at the eighth pole, a length

LUCK FOR ELLSWORTH

For the second time Rex Ellsworth has had the good fortune to buy from the Aga Khan's Studs a mare who in the following year became the dam of a Classic winner.

Last year, after Ellsworth had acquired her dam *Rose of Yeroda, Rose Royale took the English One Thousand Guineas and ran third in the Oaks. At the 1957 December Sales, one of the lots sent up at the dispersal sale of the Aga Khan's lots was the twelve-year-old mare *Bodala, whom Ellsworth obtained for under $2,000. Now she too has bred a Classic winner, for her daughter Butiaba, by Prince Chevalier, came from France to win the Irish One Thousand Guineas on May 15th by half a length. *Bodala is also the dam of *Neavala, the winner of 2 races in the United States in 1957. P. T.-C.

Raymie Woolfe on Shipboard made a move which brought the Battleship-Sea Borne gelding to the last fence only about a length off the eventual winner. Making a poor landing, Shipboard practically went on his nose, and in the process lost his rider. With his most dangerous competition eliminated, Pine Shot had no trouble from there to the wire. Out of Reach was the runner-up, a neck to the good of Bavaria. Gridiron was fourth and last of the field to finish, and gave the impression that he could improve greatly of this race. Earlier in the running, Prince Regent put in a bad one at the water jump, then came down heavily a few fences later and had to be destroyed. Pine Shot's time of 4:15 1/5 was the slowest of the meeting thus far.

On Friday, Arcadia Stable's Caste made it two for two at the meeting, and was easily the best of a field of jumpers over the larger fences. His winning margin of three lengths could have easily been twice that had Paddy Smithwick, his rider, pushed him. Basil Bee, Prince Name and Blen More finished behind him in that order.

behind Liberty Sun, with Red God separating them.

He responded nicely to wear down Red God, which had taken over the lead from Liberty Sun. *Tudor Era was the choice at 3 to 1.

Carrying 119 pounds, *Tudor Era brought in a prize of $20,825. That gives him $28,550 for 1958. He has 2 wins, a second and a third in 7 starts.

Logan Batcheller rode.

*Tudor Era belongs to Mrs. Herbert Herff and is trained by Sidney Jacobs.

The horse was bred in England by the Dunchurch Lodge Stud Co.

Garden State

Heaven giveth and heaven taketh away. Delaware opened and Garden State closed.

Brookmeade Stable's Oligarchy took the last-day feature, the nine-furlong Camden Handicap, at Garden State on May 31. The four-year-old colt earned $21,238.75 for his owner, Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane, and paid almost 8 to 1 to the fun-loving members of the "Knock Down the Favorite Club."

Calumet had Iron Liege in the one and the serious-minded made him the 8 to 5 favorite.

The choice took the first six furlongs and that was it. Oligarchy, under 115 pounds, nine less than Iron Liege, dogged the leader for three-quarters of a mile and then went to the front. Third Brother came fast in the final quarter and picked up second money. He finished half a length back of the winner and almost a length before Iron Liege. Oh Johnny was fourth.

Oligarchy won the Widener and Laurel Handicaps before the Camden and has season's earnings of $147,263. He has 4 wins and 1 third in 8 starts.

Oligarchy was bred by Brookmeade and is by *Alibhai-Elite, by Blue Larkspur.

Elliott Burch trains him.

Howard Grant was aboard for the Camden.

Garden State's Memorial Day attraction, the Colonial Handicap, drew 12 fine females. Mr. B. A. Dario's Venomous was the high-weight under 123 pounds and the public preference at 12 to 5.

With Walter Blum up, the daughter of Mel Hash-Spiteful Sue, by Heather Broom, left the gate with most facility, drew out until she was 2 1/2 lengths in front - at the stretch - and lasted to stave off the longshot, Fall Wind, by half a length. (Fall Wind was the only three-year-old in the race.)

Romanita was third and Mlle. Diane, fourth. Searching, second choice, lagged early, but closed with a rush to finish fifth.

Venomous earned $18,882.50. She won the Cherry Blossom at Laurel in April, and her '58 record shows 2 wins, a second and a third in 4 starts. Her money total is $28,252.

Last season, she won 5 of 9 and $55,580.

W. A. LaRue trains Venomous. Mr. Dario bred her. She is now five years old.

Balmoral-at-Washington

Fresh from victory in the Continental Turf Handicap, Mrs. Ada Rice's Hoop Band came through impressively in the Balmoral Turf Handicap, on May 30.

Aysha was second, Manassas (the favorite) third and Ekaba, fourth. Hoop Band returned $33,400 to his owner and $11.60 to his backers.

Aysha set the pace in the mile-and-one-eighth gallop, but Hoop Band never let her get out of striking distance, and struck after going six furlongs. He was a head in front going into the last eighth and drew out to win by three lengths. Charlie Burr rode Hoop Band.

Aysha held off Manassas by a nose. It was 2 1/4 lengths back to Ekaba. The remainder of the ten-horse field was lost in the distance.

Hoop Band was recording his third win in 8 1958 tries. His earnings, since January 1, add up to $85,950.

Last year, the gelded son of Hoop Jr., from Patricia P., by Pilate, brought in $80,892, with 5 wins in 25 trips postward. A. A. Robertson is the Rice trainer. F. W. Hooper bred Hoop Jr.

Mr. E. Gay Drake's Swoon's Son, favored at 2 to 5, scored in the Clang Handicap at Balmoral-Washington, May 31.

Jet Colonel was second in the $25,000 race and Ezgo, third.

Swoon's Son (The Doge-Swoon, by Sweep Like) was making his 1958 record 2 wins in 2 starts. The big five-year-old was handled by Dave Erb. The rider won the race previous to the Clang on Dogoon, a six-year-old full brother to Swoon's Son.

The Clang is at seven furlongs.

Last year, Swoon's Son earned $215,150, with 8 wins, 2 seconds and 2 thirds in 15 times at bat.

Mr. Drake bred him. A. G. Wilson trains.

Suffolk Downs

Mr. L. G. Bishop's Dark Ruler, paying $39 for $2, won the six-furlong Commonwealth Handicap, May 31, at Suffolk. Lord Jeep finished second, The Crack was third and Royal Battle, fourth.

The winner's share was $7,079. N. Cox rode Dark Ruler.

A six-year-old bay horse by Bimelech-Dark Imp, by the Porter, Dark Ruler was bred by the Wheatley Stable.

G. W. Bishop trains him.

The Tomasello Memorial Handicap on the grass (May 30) went to Mr. W. C. Partee's Damocles, the favorite at 3 to 2. On the job, Challefont and Zolt followed the winner home in the 1 1/16-mile test.

J. Contreras rode Damocles. J. J. Weipert, Jr., trains the six-year-old gelding. Damocles is by Destino, out of Equestrian's daughter, Tense Moment.

Mr. Partee collected $7,618.50 for his runner's effort.

King Ranch bred Damocles.

Hollywood Park

*Tommy Lee won the Haggin Stakes, at Hollywood, May 27, by eight lengths. He toured the five furlongs in 37 4/5 seconds, best time for the meeting.

The imported colt, by Tudor Minstrel, earned $14,500.

He belongs to Mr. Fred Turner, Jr., of Midland, Texas.

Hillsdale won the Will Rogers Stakes at Hollywood on May 30. Under Ray York, the three-year-old earned $15,600 and paid $6.70 in the mutuels.

FRENCH GOLD CUP

In the $30,000 Prix du Cadran (French Gold Cup), Madame Cino Del Duca's 4-year-old Scot (Souverain-Dissenter) beat the Irish-bred 5-year-old mare Gladness, owned by John McShain of Philadelphia and trained by Vincent O'Brien.

ITALIAN DERBY

Winner of the recent Italian Derby run at Capannelle, near Rome, Italy, was Ticino Stud's colt Sedan, ridden by G. Bonvini, who beat the Marchese Incisa della Rocchetta's Tiepolo, ridden by Enrico Camici.

F.E.I. THREE-DAY RULES

In Paragraph 311 of the new General Rules for Three-Day Events of the F.E.I., certain new provisions are introduced including elimination after more than 3 falls (of the horse) in the cross-country or steeplechase phases; construction requirements for fences so that fallen horses can be easily extricated; and the granting of power to the judges to eliminate horses if they show signs of exhaustion.

STEPHENS GIVES UP RIDING

Grover Stephens of Warrenton, Va., one of the country's leading riders over timber for the past ten years, recently announced that he is giving up race riding and will concentrate in the future on training.

HORSE SHOW PROGRESS

In the wake of depressive economic news, word from the American Horse Shows Association concerning the results of the first shows of 1958 is indeed encouraging. This is particularly true since the patronizing of horse shows is by no means a necessary activity of the average American whose employment, according to reports, is on the decrease at the moment.

AHSA has just announced that the first twenty shows of 1958 indicated an increase of 9% in entries, or more than any recent year. While for several years premiums did not keep pace, the early 1958 shows offered slightly more than 9% more premiums than the comparable shows of 1957.

The national organization reports an estimated increase of about 12% of shows as compared with last year. In addition, a number of older shows have increased their programs by one or two more days, according to President Adrian Van Sinderen.

THE CHRONICLE

VIRGINIA TRAIL RIDERS

At the Annual Meeting of the Virginia Trail Riders Association, held in Warrenton, Va. on May 18th, it was decided that the next One Hundred Mile Trail Ride will be held at Hot Springs on April 13-16, 1959.

The following were elected to the Board of Stewards of the Association: for three years, Mrs. Fletcher Harper, Mrs. Fannie Whitfield and Donald Patterson; for two years, Mrs. Russell Dart, Donald MacKenzie and George Cole Scott; for one year, Mrs. Archibald Randolph, Miss Anna Hedrick and Colonel George Walker. George Cole Scott was appointed President and Miss Anna Hedrick was appointed Secretary and Treasurer.

Following the meeting the members and their friends were shown a movie taken at Hot Springs, at the time of the first 100 Mile Ride, this past April.

IDAHO C. OF C. BACKS SHOW

Fearing that the 12th annual Idaho Equestrians Horse Show might be given up because of change of plans by the Ada County Fair Board which formerly acted as co-sponsor of the event, the Boise Junior Chamber of Commerce has agreed to act as exclusive agents for the ticket sales while the Equestrians will present the show itself, which will take place June 20-22 with a Sunday afternoon show June 22. A children's horse show of six classes will be held Friday afternoon.

Le Baron Farm, beautifully situated 48 miles SW of Washington D. C. on a bluff overlooking the Rappahannock River and scenic Blue Ridge Mountains. MRS. GRAHAM PICKS UP THE TAB

In his column in "The Morning Telegraph", Teddy Cox, describing an interview with Mrs. Elizabeth Graham (Elizabeth Arden) of the Maine Chance Stable, included the following story: "A visitor in the group told Mrs. Graham an interesting story of a boy and his mare and of Mrs. Graham's young stallion, Lord Vanity.

"There's a little 13-year-old boy down in New Orleans who owns a mare, and he's quite a student of bloodlines," the man related. "His name is Robert Link 3rd and his father is an attorney who represents the Jockeys' Guild. The kid had been saving his pennies, dimes and quarters for a couple of years and this year he counted his fortune and found that he had just short of $500. So he checked all the studs in Kentucky and decided on Lord Vanity, first because he is a fine individual and beautifully bred, and secondly because the price was right. He sent his mare to Kentucky and she was bred to Lord Vanity. Now, wouldn't it be some story if the mare produced a stakes horse for the little guy?"

"Mrs. Graham had not heard of the boy and felt complimented that her stallion was elected. 'Give me the boy's name and address and I'll drop him a line, and I'll pick up the tab for the stud service, too,' Mrs. Graham said. 'Under the circumstances, he'll need the $500 to care for the mare after she is in foal.'"

LADY RIDER CHAMPION AT DUBLIN SPRING SHOW

Mrs. Joan Morrisson from County Derry, Northern Ireland, was the outstanding rider at the Dublin Spring Show, May 6th to 10th. Nobody can remember one rider winning so much in one week at Dublin, or anywhere else!

She started off quietly on the Tuesday with a 2nd and a tie for 3rd in the only open event. On Wednesday she did better with a tie for 1st and two 3rd's. On Thursday she had her three horses in the first four, finishing 1st, tie for 2nd, and 4th. On Friday two of her horses jumped 6 feet to share the first two prizes in the High Jump; she then won the Championship and was 2nd in the Puissance, again at 6 feet. Finally, on Saturday she almost monopolized the big event of the day, with 1st, 2nd and a tie for 3rd.

Her three horses are Bachelor Boy (18 years), Glide On and Apollo. Mrs. Morrison, who is in her early 30's, is a former pupil of Miss Iris Kelleff of Dublin, who finished 2nd to her in the championship.
